Type: Indicates the main composition of the mattress, such as innerspring or memory foam. Some so-called "hybrid" innersprings include one or more levels of foam on top.

Dimensions: The mattress's dimensions, length by width by height, in inches.

Latex Foam: An alternative to memory foam.

Gel-infused foam: A layer of foam infused with gel, which is claimed to make you feel cooler in bed, especially with memory foam.

Resists bounciness: Indicates whether the mattress can absorb impacts, minimizing the bouncy feeling you might encounter while changing sleep position.

Eases movement: Indicates whether the mattress has enough resilience to allow easy changes in sleep position.

Grips: Helpful when handling the mattress.

Retains warmth: Some mattresses are more insulating than others and trap body heat, making you feel warmer.
